1.0 Preamble:

In line with Department of Financial Institutions and Markets (DFIM) circular no. 04 dated December 12, 2018, National Finance Limited (NFL) has sets out this code of conduct.

Safeguarding the reputation is the responsibility of every NFL employee and is the key to our continued growth as an organization. By acting ethically and integrity, we will ensure that our stakeholders' confidence in NFL is stronger than ever.

Our strong reputation is our most fundamental asset and one that can only be preserved by each of us and what we do every day on behalf of the Company. We act with integrity because it's the right thing to do for our customers, our shareholders, the industry and the larger community.

The core concept behind our Code of Conduct is that no one at NFL should ever sacrifice his or her integrity, whether for personal gain or for a perceived benefit to the Company's business. Harm to our reputation affects the entire Company and is enduring. Any perceived ethical transgression, no matter how isolated or minor, can damage our Company.

The Code of Conduct and Ethics is our roadmap to maintaining our reputation. It supports NFL which encompasses the elements that will help us achieve our vision to be the better Financial Institution.

We rely on each of you to know and comply with our Code. Be accountable for your actions and for knowing and abiding by the policies that apply to you. If you are a manager, help your employees - through both your words and your actions-understand and comply with the Code and other relevant policies.

We can look to the Code to guide your decisions in a variety of circumstances. However, no Code can anticipate every situation. Ultimately, we rely on your sense of personal integrity to protect and enhance the reputation of NFL. Never underestimate the importance of your own ethical conduct to the Company's success.

This Code of Conduct & Business Ethics is in addition to existing approved "Service Rules" of the Company. It is mandatory for all employees to read and meticulously comply with the contents of this manual. Banking is a business based on the utmost integrity and mutual trust. In order to maintain and safeguard the trust and confidence of the customers and the public, the NFL places paramount importance on the maintenance of certain standards of conduct. The NFL's standards of conduct are principally made up of certain rules, regulations and ethical principles. It is essential that all employees familiarize themselves with the contents of this manual and observe the company's standards of conduct. This is in addition other specific rules and regulations that may apply at place of work as per regulatory requirement or Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) and will be brought to employee's attention from time to time, during their employment.

Due to the need for integrity and trust in our business and the rapidly developing nature of the business, it is not possible to set out standards of conduct in every situation. Therefore all employees should seek guidance from their line manager(s) and competent authority of the company, if they are in any doubt about the correct action to take in any situation. A failure to abide by the standards of conduct may lead to appropriate disciplinary action as per service rule of the Company.

For example, he/she shall not provide performance report of one customer to other, not use logo of third party in purposes which are not allowed in the franchise agreement, not use the CIB report of third party and refrain from plagiarism of other bank's/NBFI's credit analysis for personal gains or purposes.

8.0 Use of Position

The officials in all positions of the company shall have to abide by their respective Code of conduct for the sake of both institutional and national integrity. It is expected that an official shall use his/her position and delegated power to do his/her jobs appropriately. Any deviations of this shall be treated as abuse of position and power. Generally such deviations are found out for following two reasons:

8.1 Private Gain:

An employee is supposed to exercise his/her power attributed to his/her position for the benefit of the institution as well as the country. But it becomes injurious and illegal if the exercise of his/her power relating to his/her position is led towards personal benefit. It is tantamount to corruption or misuse of power and position and it is quite contradictory to national integrity. Therefore, the use of position of an employee in any institution for any private gain is strictly prohibited.

8.2 Endorsement:

The endorsement of one's position is also similar to the abuse of position. Sometimes, dignitaries may not directly take any benefit by using their power and position. However, they may pave the path for benefits for other persons by making such unlawful use and authorization of position and power. The aim of a dignitary should be serving the people or nation without bias. If any activity makes his/her own people benefited unusually and thereby frustrates the others, it shall be treated as partiality and nepotism. So, a dignitary shall not be involved in such activities.

9.0 Conflicts of Interest

9.1 The conflict of interest is often a very strong hurdle on the way of implementation of national integrity strategy. When an employee thinks of his/her personal interest from his/her official position, a question of conflict of interest arises. The statute allows him/her to serve his/her own gain, or interest at the cost of employing institution or the state. It is a statutory as well as an ethical obligation for an employee to keep himself/herself away from the personal interest. The apparent causes or reasons behind such a conflicting situation may include the followings:

- a. Dissatisfaction with salary and remunerations;
- b. Unpleasant working environment;
- c. Lack of opportunities for promotion, or deprivation from promotion;
- d. Undue influence and/or pressure from others;
- e. Greed to or from colleagues and employer; and
- f. Lack of job security.

9.2 Whatsoever the circumstances, the employees must avoid the conflict of interest as long as they hold positions in the organization. Availing any kind of undue or illegal benefit/facilities irrespective of forms, shall be treated as deviation from the required standard of services. So, to keep the employees refrained from such a trap of conflict of interest, employers might administer the employee affairs legally & ethically, and compensate them reasonably. An employee shall have to refrain from doing the following:

- a) Performing his duties with a view to preserve/protect his own benefits at the cost of his employer.

- b) Involving in any kind of financial activities relating to his personal gain.
- c) Giving any advice, consultancy, direction or suggestion to anybody or to any institution that may cause for losses to his employer;
- d) Any practice/exercise that may benefit him at the cost of institution's assets either monetary or non-monetary;
- e) Doing anything that may damage the goodwill, image and reputation of the institution;
- f) Doing anything that may hamper the secrecy and privacy of any affairs/information of the company;
- g) Involving or taking part in any business dealing like shareholding, profit sharing, partnership of any business company or manufacturing industry or servicing center for their personal benefit;
- h) Getting any unusual or illegitimate benefits directly, or indirectly for himself/herself and family or family members, and relatives either explicitly, or implicitly by disguising identity;
- i) Receiving any charitable contribution from others and/or make any charitable contribution to his family members and relatives if those charitable contributions are made by/under his power and position;
- j) Receiving any gift (in cash or kind) from those who are directly benefited or assisted by his office or by his power and position.

The above noted issues are least in the list, but not exhausted. Any unusual act made/done by the employee(s) shall be considered within the trap of conflict of interest and be reviewed within the purview of offences.

10.0 Engagement in Other Employment

An employee shall not:

- a) Engage himself in any commercial activity or pursue such activity either on his own account or as agent of others ;
- b) Accept any outside employment, honorary or stipendiary, without prior approval/consent of the competent authority in the current employing institution; and
- c) Undertake part time work except those, which may be requested to be accepted or undertaken by competent authority.

11.0 Private Trade or Employment

11.1 Subject to the other provisions of this Code of conduct, no employee of NFL shall, except with the previous permission of the competent authority, engage in any trade or undertake any employment or work, other than his/her official duties.

11.2 Any employee of NFL below officer rank may undertake/run a small enterprise which absorbs only his/her family members. However, in such cases he/she must inform this to his/her employer along with the declaration of assets.

11.3 Any employee of the company may undertake honorary work in social, religious or charitable organizations and also may engage in occasional work of a literary or artistic character/nature, which may include publication of one or a few literary or artistic works, provided that his/her official duties do not hamper/suffer thereby. But the employing authority, at any time, may forbid him to undertake it or ask to abandon it if there exists valid reason/s to do so.

This would be followed both in cases of temporary and permanent foreign employment. The company can depute its any employee to any work or institution of their own, onshore/off-shore offices, branches, affiliated offices/institutions, subsidiaries and such placements/deputations might be governed by the service and/or other related rules.

11.5 Teaching, Speaking & Writing

Any publication or public speaking of an employee should not tarnish the image of the organization vis-à-vis regulatory bodies of the country. The same considerations apply to the publication of material on the world-wide web and social media. No employee shall make any communication regarding the affairs of the company to the press or any other media, nor publish any article containing data, comments or opinions on banks or other affairs in any newspaper which may involve the bank, without obtaining prior approval of the competent authority.
